Nature's Classroom Held April 19

Millie Redweik of the Kewanna area attended Nature's Classroom, an educator's workshop, at Camp Buffalo April 19. The workshop was sponsored by the Arrow Head Country RC&D Education Committee. The event is designed to be utilized by classroom teachers and others who work with children.

The sessions offered included "Learning Studies from the Land" by Brian "Fox" Ellis, an internationally acclaimed storyteller, author and naturalist. He presented this as a keynote speaker as well as "The Turtle Island Tales", which is teaching science with Native American storytelling as well as "River Tales", a hands-on exploration of the local geology and wet life that binds us to the rivers of our region.

Other presenters and their sessions included:

Pam Roller giving her highlights of three weeks in Japan through the Fulbright Memorial Fund and Teacher Program.

Tippecanoe County naturalist, Mary Cutler, explained the adaptation of Indiana's nocturnal wildlife. She also presented a session during which she provided a wealth of information about Indiana's reptiles and amphibians.

Naturalist Linda Matzat presented a session on "Neotropical Migratory Birds" and answered questions on why we should care where and how they migrate.

Andrea Locke, field operations manager at the Nature Conservancy's Kankakee Sands Restoration project, explored the native landscape and biodiversity of prairies and black oak savannahs. She helped the group understand what can be found in each and how the ecosystems work.

"Nature Mapping" was presented by Judy Kinsey of Harrison Elementary School. Nature mapping is the recording and reporting of the critters, plants and rocks that you see in your environment. The students are encouraged to learn about and collect specimens such as trees – leaves; rocks – minerals; plants – weeds; etc.

The Wild Bird Shop of West Lafayette furnished materials pertaining to the sessions that the attendees could purchase.

Millie works with the Scouts and found many interesting books and tapes that she will share with them. She encourages others to attend the Nature's Classroom workshop as this is an excellent way to bring information back to their children. The attendees were from a 10-county area including Pulaski, Cass, White, Kosciusko, Starke, Marshall, Jasper, Newton, Miami and Fulton counties.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

May 3, 1956

The Coffee Shop changed hands recently when Mrs. Helen Fagan of Lucerne purchased the cafe from Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ginn. Mrs. Fagan has been operating the cafe for the past six months under an option-to-buy plan. The restaurant was originated by Aubrey Zellers who sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heiden. The Heidens operated it until Carl entered the service when they sold it to Mrs. Aileen Lane. At the death of Mrs. Lane, the property was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Ginn. The Ginns first operated the cafe and then leased it to Mrs. Harrison Dewitt before finally selling to Mrs. Fagan.

Graveside services were held Saturday at the Grass Creek Cemetery for Clyde Robbins, his wife, Lillie, and his son, Max, former Grass Creek residents. According to meager details, Robbins strangled his wife, shot his son and then shot himself. All three had been in poor health. He was a brother to Mrs. George Murray of Washington, Indiana. Mrs. Murray was enroute by train to visit the family in Bakersfield, California, when Mr. Murray received word of the deaths. He telephone police to meet her at the station and inform her of the incident.

Final rites were held at the Fry and Lange Funeral Home in Winamac Wednesday for Mrs. Mandy Green, 63, Rt. 1, Winamac. She was a sister of Ed Shadle of Kewanna.

Elston Sayers was pleasantly surprised Sunday evening when friends called at his home with a carry-in supper to help him celebrate his birthday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Crist, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rude and Steve, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walsh and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kreamer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hendrickson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hood and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bitterling.

Miss Lois Frasa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Frasa, Kewanna, became the bride of Ronald Murray, son of Mrs. Ralph Murray of Rochester, in a double ring ceremony performed Friday afternoon, April 27, at the Pleasant Hill EUB Church.

Jimmy Carr, Rt. 1, Kewanna, returned to school Monday after being confined to his home for about two weeks with measles and mumps.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

May 4, 1961

Woolington Construction of Kewanna has been tentatively awarded a $155,860 contract to build a new building for the Fulton County REMC. manager Clarence Martens announced Wednesday.

Russell Walters, 49, Kewanna, was appointed Monday to his first full four-year term as county school superintendent by action of the county board of education. Walters is currently completing the four-year-term begun in 1957 by Earl Rouch who resigned in 1959.

Winners in the closing-out sale contest at the Hiland Farm Store in Kewanna were Mrs. Ralph Bitterling, three piece bedroom suite; Mrs. Bessie Engle, five piece dinette set; Mrs. Lora Pinder, swivel chair; Mrs. Francis Hurlburt, rotisserie; Mrs. Madeline Miller, four piece Revere ware set; Mrs. Ralph Kreamer, toaster; St. Ann's Rosary, ice chest; Mrs. Rosetta Newgent, stainless steel ware; Rainbow girls, electric iron; and Mrs. Mildred Troutman, coffee carafe.

Joe Dague of Grass Creek swears its true and calls as his witnesses Loren Cunningham, Sam Kirk, Gary Plummer and Floyd Latta, all of whom are willing to stake their reputations on the tale that is told - April rains and snows have swollen the waters of Mill Creek until they have covered a sizeable chunk of land along its course. As the waters were receding, Joe proceeded to look the situation over and found several large fish trapped in a field some distance from the creek bed. The largest measured over two feet long.

After much consideration, the merchants of Kewanna have decided to remain open on Friday evenings, instead of the usual Saturday night hours.

Home Ideas

(NAPS)—Flowers are not just for special occasions anymore and they decorate more than just the center of the dining room table. The possibilities are as endless as your imagination. For fresh ideas on flowers, you can visit www.flowerpossibilities.com.

For many homeowners, patios and decks are a terrific investment toward spending more time outdoors. But those home additions come with something unpredictable: the great outdoors itself, with all its natural wonders—and hazards. But a new concept in construction is helping turn those exterior spaces into something more: all-purpose, three-season rooms. Vixen Hill "porch systems" enclose existing or newly constructed patios or decks using pre-engineered modular wall panels and joining posts. For design assistance, product information or to request a catalog, call (800) 423-2766 or visit www.vixenhill.com.

If the air-conditioning unit needs to be replaced, homeowners should be aware of the U.S. Department of Energy legislation that requires all new, central air-conditioning units manufactured after January 23, 2006, to have a SEER of at least 13. Consumers may want to consider an energy-efficient model, such as the Coleman® Echelon™ 15+ SEER air conditioner. Coleman products are marketed by the Unitary Products Group of York—a Johnson Controls Company. New models are ENERGY STAR® qualified. Lake Bruce Receives Dredging Grant for $87,000

(STATEHOUSE) Senator Tom Weatherwax (R-Logansport) announced Monday that the Lake Bruce Conservancy District has received a Lake and River Enhancement (LARE) grant for $87,000 from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to dredge a portion of Lake Bruce.

"This grant and project is vital to the long-term health of Lake Bruce and the use of the lake for recreational purposes,"

Weatherwax said. "This project will improve the flow of water through the lake and ultimately improve water quality as well as sediment build up."

Weatherwax has worked closely with Norm Steigely, Chairman of the Lake Bruce Conservancy District, for several months on this project and ensuring the money for Lake Bruce.

"The project seemed to be going nowhere until Senator Weatherwax came to the support of the district," said Steigely. "The Senator has always been there to help keep this beautiful lake a viable and healthy resource for the people of the area to enjoy."

State Senator Tom Weatherwax represents District 18, which includes Cass, Fulton and Miami counties as well as parts of Pulaski, Kosciusko and Wabash counties.

Kill Weeds Without Compromising Corn Safety

There are many effective options for controlling broadleaf weeds in emerged corn. So when it comes time to choose which post herbicide to use, consider whether a herbicide's mode of action could potentially hurt corn stands.

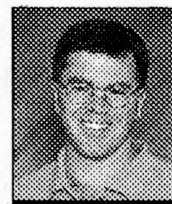

Often in late May and June, corn is stressed from rapid growth caused by warm temperatures and high humidity. This makes young corn plants susceptible to stalk-snapping from the high winds associated with spring thunderstorms.

Growth-regulator products that contain dicamba — such as Banvel, Clarity, Distinct and NorthStar herbicides — have been implicated as contributors to the problem known as brittle snap.

Field trials have shown that dicamba-based herbicide treatments have caused stand losses ranging from 23 percent to 43 percent above untreated control plots as a result of brittle snap. Meanwhile, stand counts in areas with Homet WDG herbicide were not statistically different than the untreated control plots.

In addition to its safety to fast-growing corn, Homet provides excellent control of large-seeded broadleaf weeds like common and giant ragweed, velvetleaf, cocklebur and sunflower. Homet WDG can be applied to corn up to the V6 stage of growth.

To learn more about the crop safety and weed control performance of Homet WDG, contact your local ag retailer or visit www.HometWDG.com.

Warm Breezes Bring Seasonal Allergies

Ahhhhh...yes...spring is in the air...

Warm breezes bring more than blooming flowers and budding grasses. They also produce the unwanted sniffles and sneezes of seasonal allergies.

Also called hay fever, seasonal allergies affect people only certain months of the year. In the spring tree pollens are the biggest culprits. In the summer, it is grass, and early fall brings ragweed and other flowers pollens that cause symptoms. This reaction is caused when the pollens—tiny reproductive particles—become airborne.

Allergic reactions include sneezing, congestion, runny nose, and itchiness in your nose, mouth, throat, eyes or ears. Your family physician may diagnose you on symptoms alone or with the help of specific tests. Treatments often include antihistamines, decongestants or steroid nasal sprays.

If you are pregnant or trying to conceive, allergy medications should not be taken without your doctor's approval.

To minimize your symptoms you can also take the following steps:

- Stay inside on offensive days. Check local news reports for high-pollen count and high humidity predictions. The National Allergy Bureau www.aaaai.org/nab also specifies pollen counts for various locations around the country.
- Use your clothes dryer. Fresh from the clothes line sheets smell good but also collect pollen and molds.

- Close all windows. An air conditioner whose filter is changed every month will help keep indoor air clean and dry.
- Mask up. Wearing a filter mask while working in the yard will minimize inhalation of pollen.
- Jump in the shower. After mowing the grass, gardening or spending time outside, rinse off and change your clothes right away to remove offending substances from hair, clothing and skin.

THERE'S STILL TIME TO SIGN UP FOR MEDICARE PART D

Governor Daniels calls on beneficiaries to enroll in a plan

INDIANAPOLIS — Governor Mitch Daniels reminds Medicare beneficiaries that they still have a few weeks to enroll in a Medicare Part D plan before the May 15 deadline. Medicare Part D is the prescription drug benefit portion of Medicare.

According to statistics recently released by the federal government, more than 600,000 Medicare-eligible Hoosiers now have prescription drug coverage.

Those still deciding to sign up for Medicare Part D should keep the following in mind:

- There is still time to make an informed decision. Medicare beneficiaries should search for a plan that provides sufficient coverage for all of their medications. The State's "Simple, honest help" call center, 1-800-452-4800, is available for beneficiaries to receive assistance in comparing Medicare Part D plans.
- Remember that Medicare Part D is prescription insurance. No one can predict what will happen to his or her health. A Medicare beneficiary who currently takes only one or two prescriptions could become ill and require hundreds of dollars worth of medications in a single month. Many individuals would be unprepared for this type of life-changing event. Signing up now for a Medicare-approved prescription drug plan could help reduce the costs of medications down the road. No Medicare beneficiary can be turned down for Part D coverage.
- The next opportunity to enroll is this November, with coverage starting January 2007. After the May 15, 2006, deadline, enrollment in a Medicare Part D plan will move to an enrollment period that will begin November 15 and end December 31 of each year. After the deadline, Medicare beneficiaries who wait to enroll in Part D will face increased premiums as a result.

Governor Mitch Daniels noted, "Hoosiers have been helping their neighbors understand the new Medicare Part D benefit. Our 'Simple, honest help' effort has reached thousands, but there's more work that can be done in the weeks ahead to reach those who are still making decisions."

Other outreach by the State of Indiana has included:

- Reaching more than 500 individuals representing organizations that serve the Medicare-eligible population in Indiana. The State provided these individuals with Medicare Part D training and enrollment materials so they could educate Hoosier Medicare beneficiaries about their plan options.
- Participating in numerous radio and television interviews to educate Hoosiers about their options.
- Distributing more than 2,500 posters to senior centers, homes for people with disabilities, churches and libraries to raise awareness of the "Simple, honest help" call center.
- Responding to tens of thousands of inquiries to the "Simple, honest help" call center.

In addition, using Federal grants awarded through the Indiana Family and Social Services Administration that total $280,000, Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) will be hosting additional Medicare Part D information sessions. The AAAs will partner with State agencies, local libraries, senior centers and universities to make these presentations.

For more information about Medicare Part D, for yourself, a family member or a friend, contact the State's "Simple, honest help" call center at 1-800-452-4800.
